

Privacy Policy

We respect your privacy and are committed to protecting your personal data.

When you submit your details via our LinkedIn lead form, we collect your name, phone number, email address, and organization details for the purpose of contacting you about our emergency training services.

We do not share your information with third parties without your consent, and we take necessary steps to protect your data.

Your information will be stored securely and only used for the purposes mentioned above.

For any questions about how your data is handled, please contact us at: info@rescue-one.com
